LA SALLE COMES OF AGE

21st anniversary feted

La Salle has reached manhood in a manner of speaking. Opening day in September marked the beginning of La Salle's 21st year of operation.

This is somewhat of a major feat when one considers the fact that at the end of each year, the future of this school is viewed with variable degrees of uncertainty.

Many students are unaware that La Salle is one of ten catholic boys high schools, along with St. Mary's college in Moraga, CA, sustained by the Christian Brothers of the Western Province. Headquartered in Rheem Valley, they are the largest teaching order of Brothers in the Catholic Church with 18,000 members throughout the world.

Through the Brothers financial support, La Salle has continued to grow academically and otherwise as a private school. The infamous Christian Brothers Winery in Napa Valley is the source of this support.

But, because the Brothers strive for a vastly serviced area as possible, they are not able to cover the total operating costs necessary to keep La Salle in business.

It is in this capacity that the school depends on the dedication of a tightly knit unit consisting of parents, students and faculty, who willingly give of themselves in an effort to expand and perpetuate the La Salle philosophy.

That philosophy calls for a concerted effort on the part of this unit to provide the entire surrounding community with a viable and worthwhile academic institution.

Many things have changed, during La Salle's twenty years, some say it has become too liberal, some cry it should be this, while others want that, but one thing has remained basically unchanged, and that is this philosophy.

We've made it through twenty years, let us continue to grow and advance curing the two decades that face us. La Salle has gone through adolescence, now it is a full fledged adult!

Seniors Leave Alverno For Annual Trip

By Mary Martin

On Sunday morning, October 17, seniors left Alverno High School. Have these girls decided that the busy life of a twelfth-

It is very important that the student be aware of the many deadlines facing him. The ones to be most concerned with at the writing of this article are the registration deadline dates for the Scholastic Aptitude Test and the Achievement Tests. For the November 6 testing date, the regular registration deadline date

Lance Gets Wheels Turning

This first issue of the Lance was slow in getting to you due to numerous transitions this year.

Multiple Climaxes Active Frosh Week

By Matt Kelsey

When La Salle's Orientation Week was over, probably no one was happier than the Freshmen themselves.

The first activity took place on Sept. 21 when Senior Class President Jeff Moscarel talked to the Frosh about spirit.

The next day the Mass of the Holy Spirit was celebrated in the gym by Fr. McSweeney. The entire student body attended.

A special schedule on Thursday allowed an hour for various sports. Freshmen and Seniors competed against sophomores and Juniors in warball, basketball, and volleyball.

Friday also had a special schedule. After the last period of the day, the rally was held in the gym. A shouting match pitted Freshmen and Seniors against Sophomores and Juniors. Neither group emerged with a clear victory. The La Salle cheerleaders made their debut, assisted (?) by a guest appearance of their Paraclete counterparts.

Cross Country Squad Places 3rd in prelims, Captures Berth in CIF Finals

For the fourth consecutive season, the Lancer cross country team has qualified to compete in the CIF 1A Division finals, which places them among the top ten teams in over half the state of California.

In the prelims last week at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut, the seven varsity harriers placed third in their heat behind Vishop and St. Joseph's high schools. Cathedral, who edged La Salle out of the Sante Fe league championship with a slim 28-29 dual meet victory previously, took the top spot in the other 1A heat.

According to coach Don Blair, the Lancers are definitely among the top five squads with a chance to duplicate the feat accomplished by the 1974 squad when they took the runner-up spot. He noted, however, that the Lancers are amidst some very strict competition, and will have to run an excellent race to even beat Cathedral, whom La Salle has never lost to in CIF competition.

Mark Brennan once again led the way for the Lancers with a fifth place finishing time of 11:04. This places the three-year varsity letterman third on the Lancer all-time list at Mt. Sac., behind school record holder Sean Green and Paul Hartfield. Following close behind was freshmen record holder Mark Ruelas, who placed tenth with a time of 11:17 and Jim Hartfield in the 15th spot at 11:29. These two freshmen standouts are now two and three on the varsity squad and members of the all-time Lancer list. Senior Carlos Ortiz followed with an 11:35 finish along with Charlie Etter at 11:44.

La Salle is recognized throughout Southern California as one of the tops in the cross country field and the Lancers are looking to continue this reputable tradition.

Basketball Jayvees Rebuilding After Championship Season

By Tim Burke

Unlike this year's varsity team, the junior varsity basketball team has no starters returning from last year's championship edition.

A few players have returned for their second year under new coach John Ring. Mike Morelli, ers to win the league title, but he also noted his team will surprise those who think his squad is destined for a low standing.

pool, the Lancer water polo team finished with another dismal record this year.

La Salle has become a formidable foe, however, as the poloists four goals, raul bigley and John Burke have also played consistently well all season, along with juniors Keith Bigler, Chris Kaefer, Mark Nochella and Kevin Reinsch.

A large amount of credit must also go to coach Greg Jorgenson, who completed his second year at the helm of La Salle's aquatics program. Unfortunately, Jorgenson only had seven people on varsity water polo last year and as a result he had few reserves. It takes much stamina to play a complete water polo game and this year's several juniors from last year's frosh-sopy squad filled out the varsity team nicely.

Both Jorgenson and his team spent about two hours each day in work-outs at Sierra Madre pool. Apparently these long hours have begun to pay off. Whether La Salle will become really strong in water polo or not remains to be seen, but if this season's improvement is an indication of a trend, our Lancer harriers may soon have to share the fall spotlight with water poloists.

GET THAT BALL! — Bob Begin and Dana Knicklebein splash towards loose ball in recent water polo game. These two senior fishermen have led the Lancer attack all year and both are looking for "all-league" selections.

RECORD SET

Two Gentlemen of Verona,
Proteus and Valentine,
Pledge a friendship that will last,
The length of their lifeline,
Valentine sails to seek his future
In the Emperor's court of Milan.
Proteus in Verona stays;
To metamorphose Julia is his plan.
Julia's heart is closed,
But, of course, she's metamorphosed
(As everyone eventually is),
And she gives her heart over to his,
(And he only gives her pearls).
Then Proteus, too, sails to Milan,
Leaving two very lonely girls:
Julia who's now preggers,
Lucetta who's her chum.
But choosers must be beggars,
And Two Gentlemen the girls become
To travel thus is safety
To Milan and the Emperor's Court
To find her choice, dear Proteus.
But love's memory is sometimes short,
For Proteus now loves Silvia,
The Emperor's daughter she, his choice.
But her father would wed her to Thurio -
A fool with lots of money
And a very funny voice.
But Silvia now loves Valentine.
Her book of love is closed,
And even honor-seeking Valentine
Is by Silvia metamorphosed.

Proteus hires, Julia,
Who's still dressed as a boy
(He does not recognize her!),
To deliver gifts to Silvia.
Ah, Silvia, he doth prize her!
Poor Julia, doth he despise her?
And Valentine he betrays?
Yes! His very same best friend,
As if love did on proximity
For livelihood depend.
Valentine is banished.
Proteus thinks his way is clear,
But he did not count on Eglamour,
Silvia's previous dear.
And Eglamour saves her
On her wedding Eve,
And far into the forest
Takes her, far from every peeve.
And they make love until the world
Catches up with them.
Proteus tries to take her.
Valentine doth save her.
Julia reveals herself and for a favor
Confesses that she will make a
Life with Proteus, and Silvia chooses Val.
And Thurio wins Lucetta,
Julia's faithful pal,
Everybody falls in love,
Even milkmaids in the field.
Everyone can be metamorphosed:
That is the secret of life,
And that secret is revealed.

DEAR MARK,
MAY THE BIRD
OF HAPPINESS, PEACE AND
TRANQUILITY (IF THERE IS SUCH A THING)
DESCEND UPON YOU A BEING ALL THOSE
WONDERFUL GIFTS TO YOU, BUT REMEMBER, YOU CANNOT FIND IT UNLESS YOU SEARCH FOR IT, FOR THE POOR BIRD WILL HAVE NO PLACE TO LAND. BY THE WAY, HAVE A GOOD SUMMER + ENJOY, ENJOY WHILE
IT LASTS. KEEP UP THAT RAGGY CHECKING. LOVE
BOB LUCAS
